

Dallas Area Coalition to Prevent Childhood Obesity (DACPCO)

Mission

The Dallas Area Coalition to Prevent Childhood Obesity works to promote healthy lifestyles in Dallas children through physical activity and nutrition. Prevention of childhood obesity includes advocating for positive public policy, mobilizing community resources, creating a supportive environment and raising community awareness.

Members

Co-founded in 2005 by Children’s Medical Center Dallas and the Community Council of Greater Dallas, the coalition is made up of more than 130 organizations (375+ individuals) representing health and human service providers, business, government, schools, civic and service organizations and faith-based groups.

The Dallas coalition’s main goals are to:

- Encourage collaboration among existing community resources
- Support the creation of “best practice” programs and services
- Engage in nutrition education, outreach and media campaigns
- Advocate for a supportive community environment
